

2007 4-H Talent Revue Show

Are you a 4-H member with a great talent? Do you like performing in front of a crowd? Would you like to travel and meet new people? Then the National Association of County Agriculture Agents (NACAA) has a great opportunity for you! During their annual conference, the Michigan Association of Extension Agents will be hosting the 4-H Talent Revue “Live to Perform, Perform to Live”. We are looking for 4-H members with the HOTTEST talents and giving them the chance to perform on stage before an audience of at least 1500 people.

Acts can be of any type – vocal, dance, instrumental, anything fun and exciting. Participants will be selected from audition tapes and asked to travel to Grand Rapids, Michigan July 14th – 17th, 2007. Hotel accommodations and meals will be provided for the participants at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel. Scholarships are available for transportation for those that demonstrate a need for assistance.

If you would like to audition for this fantastic opportunity, meet new friends and learn about stage performance or have any questions please contact: Beth Franz at (269) 445-4438 or via email at franzeli@msu.edu. Entry forms can be picked up at your local extension office. All entries are due by February 28th, 2007.
