

WHAT MAKES THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A WHITE - RED - BLUE - PURPLE EXHIBIT?

Use the criteria listed on the score sheets to help to determine the ribbon placing.

- Purple: All areas should be outstanding. There should not be obvious flaws in workmanship.
- Blue: All areas should be rated in the very good or outstanding categories. The exhibit is generally acceptable, but with one or two areas that are not the very best they could be.
- Red: Ratings would generally fall in the average or needs improvement categories, with possibly one very good. The exhibit has several areas that are less than perfect.
- White: The exhibit has many problems! It is not neatly done or durable. The design principles are not evident. It is not ready to use in the home. The end product may not be worth the effort put forth.

Ribbon placings are often dropped if there is an obvious omission in quality or the entry does not meet class requirements.
