Competitors are limited to checking in a maximum of 3 firearms during the official check-in period. In the event that a firearm does not meet the match requirements it can then be replaced by a different firearm. In the event that a firearm becomes disabled prior to the competition, we will perform a field check at the range site to qualify a replacement firearm.

A random drawing will be conducted each day to select rifles for inspection to take place immediately following the competition. Competitors will be notified at the end of their match to bring equipment to a check point for weight and other checks. Failure to meet the match rules due to a modification could result in a penalty or disqualification.
